Welcome to Cité d'Aleth campsite !

The Cité d'Aleth (or Alet) is just a few hundred metres from the old town, near the port of Bas Sablons.

Wild and peaceful, it offers superb views over the Bay of Saint-Malo, Dinard and the Rance estuary. Historically, the Cité d'Aleth is also home to a fort occupied by the Germans during the Second World War. Completely surrounded by water, this peninsula really is a little corner of paradise, with all the local shops you need.

The Cité d'Aleth campsite is a place for sharing and exchanging ideas. It's a place where everyone can find their place: on their own, as a couple, as a family, with friends or in a camp. You can come on foot or by bike to pitch your tent or stay in a caravan, van or camper van.

The region is full of treasures!

The campsite's location is ideal for discovering and enjoying the Malouin coastline, its exceptional environment and unique history will enrich your stay.

Set sail for the Emerald Coast!
